Korean [Language]

Being able to speak Korean makes you much more marketable and increases your likelihood of getting a job in Korea. A good command of the Korean language will not only benefit you in your career but also help you to master daily life and participate more actively in Korean society. English is not widely spoken in everyday life or in the workplace in Korea.

Therefore, we advise you to learn Korean as much as possible prior to your Working Holiday in Korea. Korean language courses are taught at several universities around the world. The Korean Embassy and Consulates in your home country can also help you locate opportunities to learn Korean near your vicinity.

Learn Korean for Free

As a Working Holiday Maker, you can take Korean language lessons free of charge.

The language courses are offered by Seoul Global Center and Korea Foundation.

Housing

※ When you first arrive, you may wish to stay in a youth hostel or guest house as this is the good way to obtain initial guidance and orientation at a reasonable price.

[Short-term Stay]

Guest House

Guest houses are Korean homes which have been converted for the exclusive use of guest accommodation. They provide an authentic Korean experience while providing opportunities to interact with Korean locals and other travelers.

Youth Hostels

Youth hostels are found in many different locations in Korea providing affordable, quality accommodation for visitors. There are a total of 70 youth hostels located in every major city throughout Korea. Rates range between KRW 15,000 and KRW 40,000.

[Long-term Stay]

Homestay

Living as part of a Korean-speaking household, you will have your own bedroom and have meals with your hosts. It is a great way to meet Koreans and share their way of life. You will also be able to improve your fluency in Korean.

One Room

The One Room is a widespread and extremely popular housing option among students and single adults. The One Room is a large single room equipped with a bathroom, kitchenette and living space.

Goshiwon (Goshitel or Livingtel)

Goshiwon was initially for people who were preparing for national exams to become public servants. However, now that regular One Room or studio apartments are demanding high rent, Goshiwon is becoming a popular accommodation choice. It is fully furnished and prices can go higher if there is a private bathroom and window within the room itself.

Officetel/Studio Apartment

The "Officetel" is a combination of Office and Hotel such that people can live and work in the same building. Many of them come fully furnished. The Officetel is also more expensive and offers larger living spaces/facilities than the One Room. Tenants are also responsible for monthly maintenance fees and additional utility fees.

Residence

Serviced residences are furnished apartment buildings with hotel-like services. They have all of the necessities of a modern apartment including an indoor swimming pool, exercise room and amenities within each unit. These units are usually two to three times bigger than your average hotel room and usually include a kitchen. Some residences can also offer tenant cleaning and laundry services.

Apartment

Apartments in Korea are the most popular housing options among Koreans and its popularity is explained by the fact that tenants are becoming ever more demanding with comfort. Nearly all apartment complexes have facilities nearby such as supermarkets, district offices, and also easy access to public transportation. The majority of apartment style residences are unfurnished.

How to find your accommodation

The housing market in Korean cities is very competitive and there is an obvious shortage of reasonably-priced residences.

Whether you rent a one-room or an officetel, a rental contract must be signed. Signing a contract without a clear understanding of your rights and responsibilities can result in costly consequences. It is advisable to have the contract checked by your Korean friends.

Please be aware that it can be difficult to find accommodation during the months of February and August due to start of the school semester.

※ Information on accommodation, residences, and convenience facilities for foreign nationals in Seoul: <http://english.seoul.go.kr/life-information/residence/>

There are many ways to go about researching for a residence.

Online

A convenient and cost efficient way to search for housing is through the internet. The internet can provide quality resources such as real estate websites and listings of property from an online newspaper.

※ Real Estate Agencies for foreigners:
<http://english.seoul.go.kr/life-information/residence/housing/>

Offline

Although housing advertisements through the internet and newspapers could be an option for locating a perfect house, working with a real estate agent in person is prevalent among potential tenants in Korea. They are easily found in every neighborhood. Many offices of the agents have signboards in front of their office or on their windows that show properties currently available. Once you have found a suitable agent, you can specifically notify him/her about your specific requirements and your available budget. He/she will guide you by showing you a range of houses and you can choose one that matches your needs. The agent should check the ownership of the apartment and authenticate the identity of the owner.

Working in Korea

Like in every other country around the world, finding a job in Korea can be difficult, particularly if you do not have knowledge of the Korean language. Fluency in Korean is definitely a great advantage for obtaining a job in Korea. However, if you have the right profile and the right approach, you will most likely succeed in any job. Working in Korea as opposed to coming as a tourist is a great way to integrate yourself into Korean culture & life and to make new friends.

Jobs Accessible to Korea Working Holiday Makers

Language Jobs

• Translator/Editor

To be a translator/editor you need to have the ability to write and express yourself well in the target language. This job allows information and ideas to be exchanged between languages and cultures. Thus, you will also need an understanding in the cultures of the people. Prospective translators/editors may engage in tasks such as business correspondence, website development, creating subtitles for movies, translating/editing official papers and literature and many other fields.

• Voice Actors

Voice actors are people who provide voices for anywhere there needs to be a “voice”. Most of the work for foreigners is making foreign language education related materials (e.g. audiobook, exam). It is important for voice actors to act well with a clear tone and possess vocal stamina to carry them through long recording sessions. People are showing attention to the voice actors, yet Korea does not have any systematic agent for voice actors.

Hospitality Job

• Hotel/Restaurant

As Korea is becoming a popular tourist destination among foreign visitors, hotels, restaurants and catering sectors are now employing bilingual or native speaking staff to assist guests and customers. A person in this field mainly needs to be courteous with good command over the language and have good interpersonal skills. The most important aspects of this industry are that your customers are comfortable, good food is served, and excellent service is provided to guests.

Volunteering Job

• WWOOF Korea

WWOOF (World Wide Opportunities on Organic Farms) Korea links people who want to volunteer on organic farms or smallholdings with people who are looking for volunteer help. In return for volunteer service, WWOOF provide food, accommodation and opportunities to learn about organic lifestyles.

Tips for Job Seekers

1. Fine-Tune Your Resume

- Your resume is your first introduction to potential employers. It should clearly and succinctly present you and only describe the aspects that are relevant to the job that you are applying for. You must attach a recent photo of you to your resume.

2. Find Jobs

- Online job search websites are probably the most used by workers looking for jobs. The following websites are the most popular English job search websites with useful information for job seekers. Scroll through the list and find the website that best fits your own needs.

Websites in English

3. Build a Network

- The majority of job openings are never advertised; instead, they are filled by word of mouth. Your network of friends, relatives, and acquaintances is a valuable job search resource.

4. Send Unsolicited Resumes

- If you have a specific company and work in mind, prepare an application even when there is no job posting yet.

Q&A

1. Am I restricted in the type of work I can do in Korea on my Working Holiday Visa?

» Working Holiday Makers are permitted to do most of the temporary work except the following fields such as receptionists, dancers, singers, musicians, acrobats at places of entertainment which might endanger good morals and manners, or as medical doctors, lawyers, professors, pilots, language instructors, cook or other professional services which require certain qualifications in accordance with domestic laws. If you wish to teach foreign language in Korea, you must apply for an E-2 Visa.

2. How much money will I earn?

» Salaries vary depending on your skill, experience, education, certification, and type of employer(industry).
The minimum wage for 2020 has been set at 8,590 KRW per hour. Foreigners will enjoy the same level of minimum wage as Korean workers.
Part-time workers often find it difficult to cover their living expense with the low wage. Careers using languages(translator, editor, etc.) usually fall into the high paying job category in Korea.

3. Is there any restriction with my working hours as a Working Holiday Visa holder?

» According to the Ministry of Justice, H-1(Working Holiday) Visa holders cannot work more than 25hours per week.
The participants should engage in employment as an incidental aspect of their holiday, rather than primary purpose, in order to supplement their travel funds.

Holiday in Korea

Korea, with its four distinct seasons, has many fascinating scenes and unique attractions for travelers. Travelling around the country while you are staying with your Working Holiday Visa would be a great experience and you will never forget memories in Korea. Recent Hallyu(Korean Wave, the popularity of Korean pop culture) boom has helped people recognize Korean culture and entertainment internationally resulting in many youth from all over the world coming to Korea with their enthusiasm to enjoy their holiday in Korea. Medical Hallyu tours, heritage palaces, Temples, Korean Cuisine such as Bulgoggi, beauty and wellness tours, world class shopping centers are all available in one country-Korea.

Enjoy Festive Air throughout the Year

From the "Hwacheon Mountain Trout Ice Festival" and the "Boryeong Mud Festival," you will be able to experience exciting nature of Korea. If you are interested in cultural festivals, "Pusan International Film Festival" and "Bucheon Comic Festival" can be the right choices for you. Throughout the year, Korea has numerous festivals as well as international expos and exhibitions. While you are staying in Korea with your Working Holiday Visa, you will hardly miss these events information provided by the regional government of each city/province.

Four Seasons of Korea

Korea has four distinct seasons and many attractions coming along with the seasons. In spring, you will hardly miss flower festivals in mountains and cherry blossom attractions all around the nation. Your summer in Korea will be refreshing and exciting with various water sports such as water skiing, windsurfing and rafting. Fall is a season for hiking and picnic due to its mild weather. During the winter, you can warm yourself up in the hot springs after enjoying some skiing and snowboarding.

Cultural Heritages and Historical Spots

To fulfill your historical interests, organize a trip from the ancient city of Gyeongju, known as 'the museum without walls', to Jeju Island-an island created by volcanic activity thousands years ago. During your trip, you can learn about the UNESCO World Heritage listed sites all around the Korean peninsula, helping you better understand the culture and history of Korea. How about Andong Hanok Village where Queen Elizabeth spent a day during her visit to Korea in 1999? The elegant beauty of a Hanok(traditional Korean house) is truly inspiring. Watch the world-renowned traditional mask dance.

Korea, the Center of Pop Culture-Hallyu (Korean Wave)

Have you ever heard of hallyu, the Korean Wave? Once you have discovered the gorgeous landscape and traditional culture of Korea, go out to the streets filled with skyscrapers. City life has a variety of fun and entertainment and in everywhere, you will find the popularity of Korean pop culture, which is called "Hallyu". With the rising popularity of Hallyu, K-pop and K-dramas are on boom among young generation all around the Asia. K-pop concerts are held almost every month in Seoul sponsored by corporations. "WAPOP" and "Dream Concert" are the main popular K-pop concerts among hallyu fans all around the world. Catch up with the latest trends of Korean Wave and enjoy Korean dramas, music, movies and various cultural opportunities while you are staying in Korea.

Living in Korea

Living Expenses

Korea is not overly expensive compared to European countries. It is difficult to say exactly how much money a Working Holiday Maker needs per month. The following table shows estimated basic monthly living costs for a Working Holiday Maker. Numbers are only approximate, as there can be a huge difference according to where you choose to situate yourself and your lifestyle.

You will require an average of KRW 1,200,000 per month to cover your living expenses. Those who have inexpensive accommodation and live modestly can probably get by less than KRW 1,000,000 per month.

* Monthly Expenses (Average)

Type	Approximate cost of living
Rent and Utilities	KRW 500,000
Food and Drink	KRW 300,000
Public Transportation	KRW 150,000
Cell Phone	KRW 50,000
Entertainment (Travel, Movies, Sports, Concerts, etc)	KRW 150,000
Clothing (Clothing/Beauty)	KRW 150,000
Total	KRW 1,300,000

* Lunch meal costs about KRW 6,000.

Foreigner Registration

Foreigner(Alien) registration is compulsory for all Working Holiday Makers arriving in Korea. Registration must be done within 90 days of entry at the nearest Immigration Office of your stay(jurisdiction).

A foreigner registration card is required for many activities in Korea, such as opening a bank account, purchasing a mobile phone, signing a lease and working legally in Korea.

It is essential that you submit all relevant documents with your application. Immigration officer will take your fingerprints and give you a receipt with the date that you can return and pick up your alien registration card. It usually takes 3 weeks to process an alien registration card.

If you move to different location to start a new life, you must report the move within five days.

Application Period

- Within 90days from the arrival date

Required Documents

- Valid passport(Working Holiday Visa)
- Application form(Available at Korea Immigration Center)
- Fees(30,000 KRW)
- Travel plans
- Housing Contract Document

Bank

All Working Holiday Makers are advised to open a Korean bank account. Keeping your money in a bank account is safer than carrying cash and it is easier for you to keep track of your spending. Opening an account is quite simple, just bring your passport(or foreigner registration card) to a branch. There is no charge for opening and maintenance of bank accounts.

A check(debit) card is one of the most common payment methods in Korea. The amount is immediately deducted from your account as you make a payment. To make a check(debit) card, you need your alien registration card, and passport. Check card can also be used for making cash deposits and withdrawals.

For further information on banking please contact appropriate bank branch.

* Korean Currency

The Korean Currency is called Won(KRW)

Bills: 1,000won, 5,000won, 10,000won, 50,000won

Coins: 10won, 50won, 100won, 500won

Cell Phone

Pre-paid SIM card can be used in Working Holiday Makers' existing phones, if they have an unlocked and WCDMA(Wideband Code Division Multiple Access) compatible cell phone. Contact with your mobile company, center or mobile manufacturing company in your home country to determine whether your cell phone will work in Korean networks.

Using Prepaid SIM card is convenient and economical solution for staying in touch while in Korea Working Holiday.

There are three main operators in Korea:

National Health Insurance (mandatory)

[www.nhis.or.kr]

The National Health Insurance covers everyone residing in Korea. Eligibility for foreigners to be granted are those who have filed for the alien registration status under article 31 of the Immigration Control Act. and have resided in Korea for at least 3 months. The system allows people to use medical institution services at a discount by paying a certain amount of money every month according to income. The premium is automatically deducted from employees' account every month. Those who are not working can also sign up for the insurance program.

※ From July 16th 2019, any foreigner who has stayed in the Republic of Korea for more than six months, he or she MUST be subscribed to the National Health Insurance.

Required Documents

- NHI Application form for the insured employee or NHI Application form for the self-employed
- Alien registration card
- Passport(Working Holiday Visa)
- Certificate of employment contract(if applicable)

Medical Advice

It is recommended that you consult your doctor 6 weeks prior to Korea Working Holiday to get appropriate advice on health precaution and any medications you should take with you.

You must have valid medical insurance for at least 3 months when you arrive in Korea. You can also join National Health Insurance and be qualified for the same benefits as Koreans. In some participating countries, when you apply Korea Working Holiday Visa, you will be asked to show proof of health insurance coverage. It is possible that your health insurance policy at home is also valid in Korea. Ask your insurance provider to ensure you have appropriate coverage.

Tax Refund

► Tax Deduction from Your Salary

1. Pension: 4.5% of your salary
2. National Health Insurance: 2.665% of your salary
3. Income Tax

Tax Base	Tax Rate
KRW 12 million or less	6%
More than KRW 12 million	KRW 720,000 + 15% of the amount exceeding KRW 12 million
More than KRW 46 million	KRW 5.82 million + 24% of the amount exceeding KRW 46 million
More than KRW 88 million	KRW 15.90 million + 35% of the amount exceeding KRW 88 million

4. Income Tax (Depends on how much you earn)

Income Tax is imposed on all income earned in Korea. Working Holiday Makers are authorized to work in Korea and they are subject to Korean tax on their income. If your source of employment is in Korea, you can file annual tax returns prior to leaving Korea.

If you think you are entitled to get some money back, you should seek advice from a <National Tax Service>.

Working Holiday Safety Tips

1. Accept the Korean way of life and follow local laws.

Only Korean Government can intervene in the judicial processes in Korea. Being non-Korean does not entitle you to any special treatment.

2. Secure your passport.

Passport loss can cause you problems. If your passport is lost or stolen, you must apply for a replacement passport at your embassy or consulates in Korea.

3. Be sure to write Contracts. No Verbal Contracts!

Contracts must be in writing to be enforceable.

- ▶ To avoid problems,
 - sign a written tenancy agreement before you move into house.
 - sign a written employment contract before you commence work.

Q: Can I extend my Working Holiday Visa in Korea?

A: Working Holiday Visa cannot be extended but you may be eligible to switch to another type of visa in limited circumstances. Please contact Korea Immigration Service for more details. (www.immigration.go.kr)

Q: What documents will be required to obtain Korean Working Holiday Visa

A: Please refer to the <1. Korea Working Holiday Program/Visa> on this brochure for general information. Since the application requirements may vary we highly recommend you to contact directly to the respective Korean Embassy or Consulates.

Q: Do I need a job in order to get a Korean Working Holiday Visa?

A: No, you don't need an offer of employment to apply for a Korean Working Holiday Visa.

Q: Am I eligible to study in Korea on Working Holiday Visa?

A: If you are planning to pursue an academic degree other than a Korean Language Course, you will usually be required to apply for a Student Visa (D-2).

Q: What happens if my passport is stolen? Can I get the visa transferred to my new passport?

A: Visit Embassy/Consulates to cancel your current passport and apply for new one. You do not need to obtain a new Working Holiday Visa if you have registered with Immigration Office. You can legally reside in Korea on Working Holiday Visa status with your alien registration card.

Q: I am planning on applying for the visa soon. Within how many weeks/months do I have to leave for Korea once the Visa is issued?

A: Once the Visa is issued, you will have valid entry date specified on your issued Visa. You will usually have 1 year before your entry to Korea but can vary among respective Embassies/Consulates.

Q: Do I need to visit the embassy in person or can I apply online/ via post?

A: You have to visit the Embassy in person since there is no online application system. Please consult the Embassy/Consulate in your region if your individual situation does not allow you to visit the Embassy in person.

Q: Is Working Holiday program supported by Korean government? If yes, What kind of jobs or accommodation are offered?

A: This Visa allows you to opportunities to stay in Korea but participants cannot expect any direct help from the Korean government in finding job and accommodation. Basically you have to do it all by yourself since there is no particular program, accommodation or job placement coming along with the Visa. Working Holiday Info Center provides participants in Korea with free consultation on finding jobs, accommodation and life in general so please do not hesitate to contact us upon your arrival in Korea.

Q: Is there any online community/blogs or websites where Working Holiday makers in Korea can hang out for networking and share information?

A: Usually there are many meet-up communities for foreigners/expats residing in Korea and you can find them by online search or Social Network Service(SNS). Working Holiday Info Center also runs a Facebook Group for the participants' networking and posts information that can be useful for the participants. You can join the group and post information too if you are a Working Holiday maker or are interested in the program. (<https://www.facebook.com/groups/Koreaworkingholiday>)
